(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The Department of Agriculture in its summary of conditions in Southern states says that in general the weather during the week ended yesterday was unfavorable for cotton because of too much rain in the western part of the belt and a lack of moisture in some more or less limited areas in the interior east. Higher temperatures from the Mississippi Valley eastward, however, were favorable except in the dry localities.

Sweet potatoes made "fair to good" progress in the southeast wherever moisture was sufficient. Truck was described as "mostly fair to good" in the Gulf states, but hot weather was unfavorable in the western Carolinas. Tobacco curing is nearing completion in Georgia. Dry weather in the Ohio Valley and Tennessee caused some wilting. Sugar cane made rapid growth in Louisiana "and is fair to good elsewhere."

Alabama Conditions
Corn, sweet potatoes, pasture, truck, and minor crops fair to good where moisture sufficient; mostly poor elsewhere; progress and condition of cotton mostly fair to good, fruiting fair locally in southwest, but complaints of poor fruiting in many localities of all sections, opening in extreme south-east; weevil quite numerous, hoppers less active.

Cotton Receipts Showing Gains

(Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 28.—Cotton receipts in this city are showing a marked increase over receipts for the same period of last year.

More than six hundred bales have been received in one week and shipments for the same period have exceeded 1,500 bales.

There are close to 10,000 bales of cotton in stock in the local warehouses. Last year at this time there were only 4,872 bales.

Total receipts for the fiscal year to date are 104,916 bales. The total yearly receipts to date of last year were only 82,939 bales.

On account of the large indicated cotton crop in Alabama this year, Montgomery is expected to rank well up among the staple markets.

YOUNG WOMAN IS DEAD OF WOUND

Ill Health Is Given As Cause For The Killing

(Associated Press)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 28.—Miss Katie Dumas, 22, was today found dead in the home of her father, J. W. Dumas, East Lake from affects of a pistol wound believed by the family and officers to have been self-inflicted because of ill health.

The young woman had recently completed a business course in Chicago. Prior to that time she had gone to school in Florida. Her health had been poor for some time the family said.

Miss Dumas arose as usual this morning, a short time later a shot was heard and her body was found with a pistol lying by. She had visited a physician yesterday concerning her physical condition the family said she appeared on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

He was taken into custody two weeks ago in South Alabama through the efforts of local authorities.

Long List Of Complaints Filed By The 59 Year Old Wife Against Youthful Husband As She Asks Divorce

By J. L. MEDDOFF
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BOSTON—A year ago Maurice Hayden, 24, took unto himself a bride twice his age, with eleven years to spare, and the union drew nationwide attention.

Today the matrimonial ship of young Hayden and his 59-year-old wife, Mrs. Joseph Bassett Hayden, apparently finding sailing too rough, is threatening with disaster.

Mrs. Hayden has filed a suit at Bridgewater against her youthful husband alleging that he married her for her money. And she requests that young Hayden be compelled to relinquish all claim to property of which she made him joint owner.

He should also pay back whatever an accounting shows he owes her, the matronly owner of a prominent summer resort on the shore of Lake Nippenick said in asking

With little less than two weeks remaining before the date of the August primaries, Andrew G. Patterson, Morgan's own, candidate for governor, is spending a great deal of his valuable time in central Alabama.

Tuesday Mr. Patterson was received with an ovation at Anniston, capital of Calhoun county, forming a basis for the prediction that another strong North Alabama county has entered the Patterson ranks. Calhoun county, like a great many of the Alabama counties, is believed to be late in falling in line in the governor's race. Mr. Patterson is reaching every county possible within the next two weeks, conducting a personal campaign that will bring untold good results prior to the primary dates.

The remainder of this week will find the Morgan candidate in Walker, Fayette, Marion and Lamar counties. He speaks in Bibb county on Saturday and then moves into Montgomery for the week-end for a brief respite before taking to the campaign trail for the closing days of the fight.

Political observers declare here that the Patterson standard is being raised higher every day. North Alabama counties, heretofore split in ranks, are falling into line with the progressive and aggressive platform of the Morgan man, making other candidates realize the valuable strength in this section. With 60 percent of the voting strength of the state north of Calera and Patterson in the ascendancy, observers declare that Patterson will lead his three opponents by a safe margin.

The Morgan candidate has been received with ovations in every county he has visited within the past three weeks and thousands of votes have been thrown to his candidacy. His strength is in a strong comparison with the growing weakness of his opponents, they having failed to convince the voters that they are actually in the running.

GODBEY TO TALK FOR PATTERSON

Attorney To Stress Candidacy Of The Morgan Man

An address featuring the afternoon program at the annual Calhoun county, will be given by Hon. E. W. Godbey, Albany-Decatur attorney, in the interests of Hon. A. G. Patterson, candidate for governor.

Hundreds made their way toward the east Morgan gathering ground this morning, full of anticipation for hearing the candidacies of practically all aspirants stressed.

Judge James J. Mayfield, speaking during the morning, was perhaps the only candidate for the Senate appearing on the grounds in person. Other candidates in the Senate race sent their representatives. The annual barbecue assumed an entirely political aspect with the candidates for county and district offices milling about the grounds and shaking hands.

Third Farm House Destroyed by Fire

A small house on the Robinson farm, near Flint, was completely destroyed by fire Monday night between nine and ten o'clock. The fire was the third in the history of the farm, the principle house burning once and another tenant's house last year.

FARMERS WARNED AGAINST BUYING OF AN EXTERMINATOR

Entomologist Tells Of Correct Use Of Pest Killer

HOPPER ACTIVE IN LARGE AREA

High Costs Too Much For The Farmer To Stand

(Associated Press)

TALLULA, La., July 28.—Farmers whose crops are being damaged by the cotton hopper were warned today by George A. Maloney, associate entomologist of the department of agriculture's experiment station, to beware of advertised remedies of various kinds designed to control the pest. He declared sulphur had been found to be more effective.

With the hopper continuing to do much damage to cotton throughout Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi, farmers are continually seeking advice from the government laboratory. Mr. Maloney confirmed reports that the insects have caused heavy losses since June 1.

"Cotton in many cases," he said "has been practically denuded of all fruits and so injured by these insects that it is now too late to expect the use of sulphur to result in the production of a sufficient quantity of lint to justify the expense."

"Cotton which has only recently become infested with the hopper and has not been severely injured by them stands a good chance of making a crop before frost provided dusting with sulphur is promptly started and continued at four day intervals until the insects are brought under control. Where sulphur is used for hopper control, it will also be necessary for the crop to be protected against damage by the boll weevil and cotton leaf worm by timely application of calcium arsenate. The cost involved in protecting cotton from these insects for the rest of the season would be prohibitive in the case of cotton already badly damaged by the hopper, while in the case of cotton recently infested the chances for making dusting operations profitable are much more promising, but then only where the control of weevil and leaf worms is made part of the operation."

Mr. Maloney pointed out that during the past four years many chemicals have been tested by government entomologists and declared that it has been conclusively shown that none of these were nearly so effective as sulphur.

"With the occurrence," he continued "of such great damage by the hopper over so large a part of the cotton growing area and the consequent state of mind of the cotton grower there has appeared on the market several preparations purporting to be sure remedy for hopper damage. Under the conditions such as now exist through insect damage the farmer is frequently made the victim of schemes usually with large profits to the schemer and heavy loss and disappointment to the farmer. If the farmer would first seek the advice of his county agent, his state experiment station or the department of agriculture on the control of insects which may be causing his loss, he would often prevent the loss of his crop as well as the money he pays for worthless nostrums."

Heat records fell slightly in these cities through Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. Tuesday night temperature stood at a minimum of 70 degrees. Wednesday temperature reached a maximum of 86 degrees.

WRECK VICTIM RESTS WELL, BUT HAS NEVER BECOME CONSCIOUS

Miss Lena Mae Mihan, Tuscumbia Girl, Is Still Unconscious At The End Of Ninety Hours Since The Crash

Miss Lena Mae Mihan, Tuscumbia girl who was seriously injured in an automobile wreck last Saturday night on the Athens-Florence road, remains unconscious at the Benevolent hospital after ninety hours. Miss Mihan has not regained consciousness since the terrible wreck which claimed the life of one of her companions and injured six others.

Miss Mihan's condition is described today by hospital authorities as "resting very well." Physicians continue to express little hope for her recovery.

The unusual story of a girl's pluck was told today in connection with the unfortunate accident. Miss Minnie Smith, who suffered a broken leg and a fractured jaw made the trip to the local hospital, was removed from the ambulance and taken to her room without more than a whimper. The girl suffered intense pain during the forced motion, but was quiet.

Russell Elledge, said to have been the driver of the roadster which was occupied by seven people at the time of the accident, was described today as "doing fine." Others of the party were not given hospital attention.

LINE CREWS ARE SENT TO CULLMAN

Storm Of Tuesday Did Little Damage In This County

Line crews of the Southern Bell Telephone Company today were sent into Cullman county to repair small damage done by the Tuesday evening storm in that section, manager J. B. Cassels stated today. The storm did little damage in this section.

Though rain in torrential proportion drenched Morgan County, this section was not visited by high winds, so far as has been learned. One of the heaviest rains in years fell during Tuesday afternoon and early evening.

The rain cooled the atmosphere for but a short while, the mercury starting on the upward trail early today and continuing to reach upwards at the noon hour. Rain did little damage to Morgan crops, the drouth of three weeks ago having placed the ground in good condition to receive the moisture.

At the regular meeting of the commission it was decided to put the road from the top of the mountain at Settin in good condition.

The three-mile link on the Guntersville-Scottsboro road will be begun shortly. Citizens of that section will help chert the road and the county will grade it and put in the bridges.

One Is Killed In Train Wreck

(Associated Press)

LAKELAND, Fla., July 28.—Engineer Liga of Sanford was instantly killed this morning when after striking a bus and injuring several passengers, his train collided with a switch engine at Orlando.

The injured were rushed to the Orlando hospital. Conductor A. W. Robinson was uninjured and Fireman Chitt saved himself by jumping from the cab.

The Sanford wrecker was on its way to the scene of a Lake Alfred freight wreck which occurred at 4:40 a. m., and had gone as far as Winter Park when the crew was ordered to Orlando to clear up the second wreck.

At Brunswick, which is between Savannah and Jacksonville the barometer dropped to 29.5 at 10 o'clock this morning and the wind was steadily increasing. Hundreds of summer visitors on St. Simons island were awakened by a messenger who informed them that a 75 mile hurricane was expected to reach the island soon. Tourists rushed to Brunswick by every train and means of travel, filling every hotel in the city. Many of the visitors brought all of their belongings along.

Tolling of the fire bells and display of the hurricane signals at the custom house warned South Carolina to make ready for the storm. Increasing wind velocity was accompanied by an announcement that a storm blow would reach the city by night, and urged that all island residents come into safety. National guardsmen of North Carolina in summer camp at Fort Moultrie on Sullivan's Island were ordered to strike camp and move into barracks. Firing

Perhaps he has not noticed that the Bible also is interested in that subject. Women must have their heads covered, and hold their peace, in church. Isaiah would not have them "walking and mincing as they go." You learn in the last chapter of Proverbs that the virtuous woman's clothing is "silk and purple" and that "she maketh herself coverings of tapestry."

Female dress and manners are important. They indicate character, or lack of it, and what women are in this generation the next generation will be.

Rescue Of Thirty Is Believed Likely, Says Report

(Associated Press)

SANFORD, Fla., July 28.—One man was killed, one injured and considerable property damage done and with Sanford cut off by the storm that swept over this village last night and early today. A man, named Laney of Orlando employed in the construction of the power plant of the Florida Public service corporation at Sanford Springs across Lake Monroe was instantly killed last night when a pine tree crashed down upon the bunk house and crushed his head as Laney lay on his cot. Another man was injured. Small crafts in the yacht basin in Lake Monroe were damaged.

Holes were torn in the roof of several houses by toppling chimneys. Two floors of furniture of the Sanford Furniture company were damaged by water.

Residents along the coast of upper Florida, Georgia and South Carolina prepared today for the coming of the West Indian hurricane which was moving up the coast slowly after lashing the southern borders of Florida yesterday.

While West Palm Beach and Miami and the cities in the wake of the storm took toll of the damage, St. Augustine and other towns along Florida Savannah, Brunswick Ga., and Charleston, S. C., made welcome for the unwelcome visitor.

The hurricane was reported this morning moving slowly along the Florida coast between Titusville and Jacksonville in a northwesterly direction. The weather bureau reported its center would pass close to Jacksonville today and probably would proceed north.

Shipping and people of resort towns in the path of the storm sought places of safety.

A special train was sent to Tybee and brought women and children from the resort island to Savannah. The shrill whistle of the engine announced the arrival of the train in Tybee. This was accompanied by the blowing of revolvers by the 121st infantry, buglers of the Georgia National guard in camp there. A stiff northeaster was blowing on the island early today, but neither lives nor property had been endangered.

At Brunswick, which is between Savannah and Jacksonville the barometer dropped to 29.5 at 10 o'clock this morning and the wind was steadily increasing. BERLIN—

German hotel keepers are pressing the government to abrogate visas for American tourists visiting Germany. They argue that more Americans would come to Germany if they had not to go through the wearisome formalities of obtaining a visa at the German consulates in the United States. Also, reference is made to the fact that many other European countries abolished visas and that following this measure the number of American visitors multiplied many times.

It is estimated that 22,000 Americans who booked passages to Germany during this summer will leave a couple of hundred thousand marks at the Consulates, but it is claimed that, if the German Government could make up their mind to abrogate visas, more American visitors would come to Germany, leave more money, and, subsequently would mean more state revenues through taxes on hotels. Every American tourist visiting Germany is estimated to leave about 1,500 marks in Germany as an average.

More attention shall be paid to learning foreign languages by members of the German Reichswehr, demands an Army Order issued recently. Russian and Polish languages shall be given preference over French and English. Examinations will be held after the courses and the best linguists will be promoted interpreters of the Army Commands. Lectures and lessons are free of charge for all officers and men.

Special significance is attached to the fact that the eastern languages are given preference over the western ones. Communists have claimed that the German Army is preparing for cooperation with the Red Army, which was categorically denied by Army authorities.

"Bobbed" women suffered a severe reverse when some ten thousand Berliners elected an "unbobbed" woman Summer Queen at a beauty contest here in one of the biggest Berlin amusement parks, the Lunapark. Hairdressers are said to be greatly distressed over the fact that an unbobbed woman was preferred and are forecasting a "turn of the tide" in women's hair fashion.

The German Railway Management announces an innovation which is bound to appeal to and be welcomed by groups of American travellers visiting Germany. A twenty-five percent reduction on fares is granted to travellers if they travel in groups of twenty and more persons. The reduction is valid for distances of thirty kilometers as a minimum. The new regulation became effective on June 10 just in time for the bulk of American tourists to benefit from it.

Although, concerning the total of motor cars and motor cycles the German capital is lagging far behind New York, London, and Paris, motoring is becoming a favorite sport of Berliners. During the last few years the number of licenses granted to motorists has more than tripled. In 1925 alone about 20,000 licenses were given at the Central Bureau, some twenty or thirty applicants are being examined daily.

Some New Facts on Sleep and Night Brain Work

LIKES NIGHT WORK.

David Belasco, Famous Stage Producer, Does His Best Creative Work at Night.

THE so-called "beauty sleep," early at night, is a myth, psychologists at the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, Pittsburgh, have declared following extensive tests. A dozen or more students used as subjects in the experiments rested more comfortably later at night, or early in the morning.

The average number of times you change your position in bed, the tests showed, in 33 times a night, and you do more thrashing around early in the evening than after you get "settled." Hence your best test comes later. And you aren't "fresh and clear of mind" before breakfast—you are much fresher mentally before you go to bed. Setting-up exercises in the morning, however, tend to bring back your clarity of brain.

All of which overthrows a lot of our pet proverbs, but science doesn't guess. Accurate recording instruments were used in the Pittsburgh tests, and after all the facts are carefully collated and studied, more interesting conclusions about sleep may be announced.

THE RELATIONSHIP OF MIND AND BODY

By Right Thinking and Right Living All May Improve Their Health and Lengthen the Number of Their Days.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.

United States Senator from New York

Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

WE hear a lot about the effect of mind over matter. I wonder just how much the mental condition has to do with the health.

A great many times you will find yourself blue and unhappy and cast down, when your mental state is due largely to the condition of the liver. There is no doubt that indigestion, sluggishness of the intestines, and failure of secretion on the part of the kidneys are factors having a lot to do with the mental state. You cannot be happy and cheerful if your organs are not functioning as they should.

I am perfectly willing to concede, however, that the mental state in its turn has a lot to do with the way you feel. If you get all stirred up and have your emotions excited, the functions of your highly organized sympathetic nervous system will be seriously disturbed. Excitement stimulates the heart and tires that organ. Despair lessens the actions of the heart, and in consequence the cleansing streams of blood are not sent through the system.

Sadness and profound grief destroy the appetite. Without appetite there is a failure to take the nourishing food so essential to health and vigor. All the emotions react in one way or another upon the physical functions.

You can see there is a relationship between mind and body. Everything tending to make you happy will make you feel better physically. You cannot have red cheeks, sparkling eyes, clearness of skin, and firmness of muscle unless your mental processes are what they should be. Happiness is a tonic. It stimulates as wine does. The "grand and glorious feeling" of which we read, is likely to come to one more content.

The ideal life to lead is one so well balanced that every day records duty well done, every obligation met, and a consciousness of right conduct and noble aspirations.

If we can add to a mental state such as I have just described, right living with all it means, we have the conditions which certainly add years to every life. The rules of living are simple. Fresh air, sunlight, plenty of good water to drink, simple food, the avoidance of excessive fatigue, abundance of sleep, cleanliness of the body, proper dress—in these we have the secrets of good health.

For myself I do not believe that long life is likely to follow persistent violation of the rules of right living and right thinking. It isn't enough simply to observe physical rules. There are mental and moral rules which must be observed. I have read that "as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." There is no doubt that right thinking has a tremendous part in our lives. Right thinking I include in that term right thinking as regards the physical.

Helping To Build The SOUTH

For many years this Railroad has used daily and weekly newspapers, farm journals and widely-distributed booklets for the purpose of advertising the commercial and agricultural attractions of the territory it serves. The bulk of the circulation of these magazines and newspapers has been confined principally to the Central-West section of the country. Believing, however, that the eyes of the entire nation are on the Southland, and that the clear-thinking people of every state in the Union are looking to this great territory of milder climates and greater opportunities, this Railroad, some months ago, inaugurated a campaign of advertising in magazines of general circulation, such as The Saturday Evening Post, The Literary Digest, The National Geographic Magazine, and Review of Reviews.

These advertisements will run regularly throughout the entire year, and those which have appeared have brought inquiries from every state in the Union. These inquiries are being promptly and intelligently answered and it is the belief of the management of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad that the South—particularly that part of the South served by "The Old Reliable"—will show remarkable and uninterrupted population increases.

Prosperity comes with increased population and this Railroad—the first great North-and-South trunk line of the nation to adopt national advertising—is doing its part to build the community in which you live.

TODAY 12 Years Ago

From The Daily of July 28, 1914
Dr. E. J. Conyington, James A. Nelson, T. M. Jones and Dr. W. M. Dinsmore today authorized The Daily to announce their names for Mayor of Decatur.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Robinson will return from New Orleans this week.

As a compliment to the guests of Mrs. Alex Humphrey, Mrs. B. Preuit will entertain with a movie party tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Vene Littlejohn and aunt, Mrs. Horn-er leave tonight for Helena, Ark.

Mrs. Dunn and little Rachel Clements, of Montgomery, are the guests of Mrs. J. T. Nelson.

No pests reported in Morgan county cotton, only those who wait about this being a poor agricultural year. Such years hardly come to North Alabama.

Another killed in an automobile wreck, an unfortunate occurrence. That's about all we say about motor deaths.

There seem to be at least two things alike in this world, legislation upon Muleshoe Shoals and good roads in Alabama.

Ten years from now "Ma" Ferguson may write an article entitled, "The woman's place in the home."

All the joy of calling upon friends in the evening has been taken away since every radio has a different screech.

Campaign expense would not be half so great to candidates if they refrained from sending material to newspapers which the editors deem should carry the "Paid political advertising" line at the bottom.

Friendship is a great policy, but it won't work in politics, vote for the man whom you believe will carry to the best of his ability in the interests of all the people.

Frequently the man who prides himself upon being dressed "fit to kill," gets the plaudits of the multitude with "he ain't worth the powder and shot to kill 'im."

Physicians should not advise people to take Daily Dozens these days, you might over-exercise when you get on the streets and mingle with the candidates.

DEMPSEY WILL RECEIVE $400,000 WIN OR LOSE

Jack Dempsey will receive $400,000 for a few minutes of fight in New York if he happens to fight Tunney, that goes win, or lose. Jack gets his and will probably bring down maledictions from Arthur Brisbane who will declare that Dempsey should be nailed spikes in a railroad tie some place, where his work could be worth something.

It's hard to see why Jack Dempsey should be discussed so frequently just because his reign in the halls of fistiana has been productive of vast sums of money. Had you or the writer have chosen such a profession, we likewise would have been extremely careful to see that the contract was ironbound before we stepped into the ring to receive a broken nose, or a cauliflower ear. Dempsey has done pretty pretty well with his title, at least he has taken advantage of his opportunities and that is a great deal more than most of us can boast.

JOYCE HAWLEY, "BATHTUB" GIRL GETS IN BAD

Joyce Hawley, the girl who is alleged to have taken a bath in wine, scantily clad in something pink, a pair of shoes and stockings, is in bad again. Joyce has been retained in Chicago where she refused to tell medical examiners who was the mayor of Chicago, or who was the governor of Illinois. Joyce is undergoing a psychopathic test while on a tour of the gang-ridden city, despite the fact that she claims New York as her own and looks upon Chicago with utter disdain. She declared vehemently that she did not wish to remain in Chicago that "New York was her town, Chicago—Bah!" Joyce overlooked a bet while being examined by the physicians, she should have told them that the governor of Illinois and the mayor of Chicago had been killed only a short time ago when gangsters took them in a car for a joyride. The physicians would never have known the difference, that sort of thing happens frequently in Chicago, though it is essentially a good town.
When the young lady completes her tests in the city of gangsters it is very likely that she will draw a good contract with some Broadway show. All that is needed is some flashy notoriety and a desire to be looked at.

AGRICULTURAL PROSPERITY REFLECTED IN CROP REPORTS.

You know it makes people in the cities feel mighty safe and proud to hear folks from the agricultural sections of Morgan and Limestone counties talk about what fine crops are going to be raised this fall, what a harvest of wealth is going to be turned into these cities through agricultural channels. It makes folks round here think of the work that has been accomplished in the past by various civic organizations here, though that work was not done with the idea toward the building of good will.

Morgan and Limestone farmers deserve prosperity, they deserve the conveniences of the home that other people enjoy, by the sweat of their brows they have accounted for fully three-fourths of the wealth of these two counties. That's why The Daily is so strong for an agricultural program within these cities. Farm trade is fully valuable to three times the extent that other trades offer and it is up to the business interests of these cities to help in every way possible. They are helping now, but the establishment of curb markets, trades days and other farm essentials will go a long way toward cementing a friendship that will be found worth a great deal to these cities from a civic as well as a financial standpoint. Agricultural trade is substantial, let's cultivate the idea and see that Albany-Decatur stands at the top with the farmer.

THE EAGLE SAYS CARMICHAEL SHOULD HAVE STUDIED SITUATION

Replying to an editorial in the columns of The Daily some days ago, regarding Archie Carmichael's "tortoise" attitude in waiting eighteen years to get on the gubernatorial band wagon, the Dothan Eagle, in a bright little editorial, declares that the job is big enough for such hectic consideration. We quite agree that the governor's position is an executive job calculated to produce grey hairs, but what we are afraid of is that if it has taken Carmichael eighteen years to get this far, then how in the world can he get started on a road building program in our years time, how can he release the convicts from the mines in four years time, what in the world is he going to do when the "little red schoolhouse" is out of coal, the children will all freeze to death before he can make up his mind to sign the order for fuel. We don't know how brother Carmichael is running down around the Eagle's stamping ground, but he "sholy is bad off up here." Characteristic of his conservative and cautious moving, he waited too late to get into the governor's race, all the votes had been voted before he announced his decision to enter the candidacy. Archie is a fine fellow, but he should have ordered seven league boots when he started stepping in the race with Andy Patterson, else he should have started stepping more than eighteen years ago.

THE FLORIDA HURRICANE STRIKES AT A BAD TIME

The Florida hurricane has struck at a particularly bad time, Florida had a financial hurricane to strike within the past two weeks. Far be it from this newspaper to talk the bad points of a sister state, but sometimes it is enlightening to compare the state of Alabama with other states, the comparison shows so favorably for the home state. Alabama has been through no financial hurricane, neither has Alabama been through any hurricane of the elements. The latter was providential and of course is unfortunate, the former might have been averted if high flyers had sought to stay on the ground rather than sailing into the air so high above every other state in the Union.

Alabama regrets Florida's plight, just as does every other Southern state, yet it is very much like a healthy condition of business. Things run smoothly and in tip top condition for awhile, perhaps a long while, then they smash and smash badly, the stamina of the state or the individual is tried in pulling out of such a hole. Florida will pull out, she may not have the natural resources to call upon, she may not have the substantial industry to call for aid, but she has business men with faith and lots of travelers from the north and east with fat pocketbooks. The southern state which has already done much for the Southland, more than a majority of her sister states, will pull through though it may take months or years.

TALKING OF THE COLLEGE BRED BOY OR GIRL

The trouble with the college boy of today," begins a long story by a millionaire who has won his own way and who, incidentally, is a college graduate, "is that their idea of work is in blowing smoke from a cigarette early in the morning, their feet on the desk, dictating a few letters to a stenographer—posing." The interviewed goes further in saying that it is useless to send a boy to college unless he is possessed with a "diamond brain," the "pig iron brain" might stay in college for an indefinite period and never be better for the training "pig iron will not polish."

There is a great deal of interest centered about such talk from a man who has made his way, is a college graduate, a business executive and in a position to see where many fail. A college education is just the thing for the boy or girl, so goes the opinion of the parent of today. Parents too often do not stop to consider that the boy or girl at home has to choose whether to become a student or a "collegiate" after he or she reaches the college campus.

The writer disagrees with the millionaire only in the particular that it is not so much the type of brain that a man or woman may possess, but how the brain they have is to be utilized. Hundreds of people who attend college presumably for the purpose of gaining a knowledge of higher things, finer education, really are students at college because their tuition is paid. They would do far better at home where the sweat of the brow is more soothing than the plunking of the ukelele. It is a poor state of affairs when sons and daughters cannot go to college, free from the restraining hand of the parent, and assimilate what there is offered at college, but that state of affairs has existed ever since college became known, ever since boys and girls left home on any undertaking. People rarely ever realize the value of education until they are all through, have come out and gone to work that they too might live. College is splendid for the student, it is a playhouse for the boy or girl who is looking for a playhouse. Children can make of their opportunities just what they desire, often their parents are not in a position to know just what they are making of their opportunity.

FAIR WARNING

Voice of People

Editor Daily,
Albany, Ala.

Dear Sir:

I thank you both for publishing my letter about the school book situation as I see it and your editorial comment of yesterday; I did not mean so much to take issue with Mr. Patterson as to correct what appears to me to be a mistake. I wish it were possible, in some way, to lower the cost of school books; I believe that it can safely be said that from the humblest purchaser of texts to the head of the State Department of Education, each ardently wishes the same thing. I really believe that Governor Brandon has been sincere in his efforts to get books at a lower cost and if Mr. Patterson, as governor, can succeed in doing this he will have won the lasting gratitude of all of us common folk.

There are other issues that pertain to the welfare of our schools that I should like to discuss in your columns; your courtesies to me in the past lead me to believe you would spare the space, but the fear of being misunderstood and the charge that I should be doing the very thing I most earnestly condemn—that of school officials entering into politics for personal gains—deter my doing so.

With all good wishes for The Daily, I am,

Yours truly,
EARL M. HODSON,
County Superintendent of
County Superintendent of Education.

DETROIT DENIES CHARGES OF IMMORAL CONDITIONS

By International News Service
DETROIT—Charges made by representatives of the Rockefeller foundation that vice conditions are bad in Detroit has brought a reply from Police Commissioner Croul, in which he cites the work of the vice squad of Central station in the last six months as an indication of the work the police are doing to curb vice.

The foundation report stated that 500 disorderly houses are operating in Detroit. Croul said that arrests made by the vice squad in the last six months totaled 5,695 or about 1,000 a month.

ENGLISH SPEAKING UNION HAS NEW HOME IN LONDON

By International News Service
LONDON—After many months of effort the English-speaking Union has at last completed its project of acquiring a property in the West End of London to be the permanent home of the organization in the British Empire.

Dartmouth House, in Charles Street, Berkeley Square, has been purchased for this purpose. There will be commodious reading rooms drawing rooms and writing rooms, while present plans are for remodeling the upper part of the house into thirty bedrooms for the use of members.

Capper on the front page says, "Standard Oil's July dividends exceed fifty million dollars. For the first half of the year Standard's profits will be ninety-one millions. If this rate continues Standard Oil stockholders will receive a greater sum in dividends than the net earnings of all the farms of Kansas any record year."

"Standard oil is benefitted by corporation laws. Just now the copper industry, functioning under of the old Pomerene act, has arranged for regular exports of copper."

As regards oil profits, the Standard companies are operated in every state, at every cross roads and in every nation on earth. Comparison with their earnings to the farm earnings in the state of Kansas may not show so much.

Also, if farmers were organized industrially with modern machinery, financially and locally as well as Standard Oil, their sorrows would diminish.

People could, if necessary, do without gasoline. They couldn't do without food. The farmers control the real "necessity of man" and could operate the greatest monopoly if they knew how.

But that demands organization.

A RICH individual of Newport gets a separation from his wife on charges of cruelty, sufficiently unusual to arouse interest.

The lady asked her husband for $10,000 and when he said no, she knelt down and prayed God to curse him. That would make any man nervous.

And, worse, the wife barricaded herself in her husband's apartment and gave the reporters unpleasant statements about him. She would write out what her heart dictated, pin the note to one of her husband's silk shirts and throw the shirt to the reporters through the window.

This and similar ingenious devices broke down the husband's health. You need not envy the rich, they are not always happy.

Former Congressman Langley Named Editor of Georgia Prison Newspaper

By International News Service

ATLANTA—John W. Langley, former Kentucky congressman, who is serving a sentence for conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, has been made editor of "Good Words," the official monthly publication of the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, according to announcement by Warden John Snook.

Langley inherited the editorial post, after it had been held by a number of prominent prisoners. His immediate successor was Austin Howard Montgomery, sent to the prison from New York. Montgomery succeeded Former Governor McCray of Indiana, and relinquished the post when he was promoted to the job of warden's secretary. McCray was forced to give up his editorial duties by ill health. The population of the Atlanta prison is again near the high record mark, with more than 3,250 prisoners confined in the grey stone walls. The record was 3,260 prisoners, reached during the summer of 1925, Warden Snook said.

Suppose your employer failed to pay you some day; gave no definite promise when he would pay you. Would you continue to work for him?

Room-Mates

By Dorothy Flack.

FRIENDS, pals, chums in everything. Sharing each other's joys and sorrows and all the dear delightful secrets of girlhood. The dearest days in memory, those when "my room mate" was the sharer of everything. But that was before Love came. Then the story changed, but even though "Room Mate" is the first to know of the other's happiness. He overshadows her in importance and the dear confidences are for his ears alone. Which is only right, for Love should share everything, even as the Room Mate did during those dear, departed girlhood days.

Of course, Room Mate feels the loss of her companion very keenly, but she's happy in the other's happiness, and is just waiting her turn. When that dear day comes, again will the confidences be exchanged and the two who have been girlhood friends will be confidentes of each other's wonderful love secrets.

NEW RADIO METHOD TO OPERATE TRAINS

By International News Service
CHICAGO—Radio is to safeguard travelers over a 2,200 mile stretch of steel railroad track!

A method of radio communication was announced here today by officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul Railway which is believed to assure absolute safety in operation, of trains.

When storms, blizzards or catastrophes paralyze other methods of communication—radio to the rescue.

Failure of a railroad's telegraphic system from any cause now means a delay in traffic until the break is repaired. Officials pointed out. Under the new system, this will be a thing of the past.

Pivotal stations will be established at Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Miles City, Mont., Butte, Spokane and Seattle. These will direct a short wave radio interlocking organization which will enable train dispatchers and others to get in touch almost instantly with any train of a special type.

The equipment to be installed on all trains is of a special type, designed to answer the needs of such service. For six months, daily two of the sets have been under test between a point in northern Wisconsin and an island off the coast of Florida.

The tests, under conditions believed much more severe than any the equipment will be placed under in actual service, resulted, it was said, in 100 per cent efficiency.

The distance between the east points, 1,300 miles, is almost twice that of the longest air "jump" to be made by the new system.

It is a fancy to have the bag in pastel color to match the hat or frock. The little envelope shaped pockets in beads or brocades which are so popular for dress occasions are the direct descendants of those carried by the ladies of the Empire. Charming reproductions are made of mauve or maize-colored silk embroidered in dull gold tinsel. On the outside of the flap written in tinsel are the words, "Tout est plaisir" (all is pleasure.) But one must lift the flap to learn the whole tale, for there are the words, "Quand on aime" (When one loves.)

Add the yolks of two eggs with cream and color green with a little spinach juice obtained by washing and pressing well a good bunch of spinach in a linen-cloth.

PARIS—It's the little things that cut the figure, according to the chi Parisienne with whom details play a most important role.

Most smart women are wearing lowers both with daytime and evening gowns and others a single, so it that they are fresh and charming. A bedraggled boutonniere is much worse than none at all. Artificial flowers are back in vogue and the flower of silk, chiffon, rubber, feathers and pearls as so great an air of the natural that it is scarcely distinguishable from the real blossom. Certain women of fashion prefer small bouquets of field flowers with their evening gowns and others a single, versize blossom of silk and chiffon. AMERICA DANCING NEGRO STEPS TO NEGRO MUSIC

By International News Service

CHICAGO—America is dancing the negro's steps to the negro's music, according to A. G. Gulbransen, piano manufacturer, in an address here.

"The negro is the only artistic race in America, which has retained its racial characteristics and imposed its art expressions on the life of the nation," said Mr. Gulbransen.

"Germany has the waltz, old France the minuet, England the Sailors' hornpipe, Ireland the jig, Scotland the Highland Flieg, Spain the fandango, Italy the tarantella, Czechoslovakia the polka and even Hawaii the hula-hula.

"America has the fox trot and the Charleston invented by the negro. The Virginian Reel is forgotten, and the antiquarians who are attempting to revive it might well try to resuscitate the Indian scalp dance. In the homes of America now, our people are dancing negro dances, and the music of America is the rhythms of the negro."

HARTSELLE NEWS

Fine showers have come to this section during the past few days, bringing a great relief from the excessive heat, and caused all growing vegetation to take on new life.

Crops of all kinds were beginning to feel the effect of the continued dry conditions, though no real damage has been done by the three weeks of dry weather.

Cotton continues to make fine headway and no real pest has appeared in this section in any appreciable degree. Corn got rain just at the right time, and a good yield is very promising.

Farmers here have had a splendid time to save their hay crops so far, and much forage has been stored for winter.

Gardens are good, and the present rains make the guarantee that they will be better.

The revival services at the First Methodist church entered the second week Sunday, and large attendances have heard the evangelist in the two uplifting sermons each day.

Splendid music has been a feature of these services, being led by Rev. Lampkin, of Waterloo, Ala.

Home grown watermelons made their appearance on the local market Saturday, and while small yet are of good quality. Canteloupes (home raised) are also being sold here.

With the recent rains coming just at the time when melons needed the moisture worst, fine ones are expected to be brought in within the next few days.

The Hartselle Ice company is now running their new plant at full capacity daily, making a splendid grade of ice. The town consumes the output, and the force on duty have had a very busy time serving the public. Two delivery wagons make daily trips over town.

Attorney E. W. Godfrey of Albany, addressed the citizens of Hartselle and surrounding country last Saturday in the interest of Hon. A. G. Patterson for governor.

There are unmistakable signs evident that the swing toward the principles advocated by Mr. Patterson in his platform, has been very marked in this section during the past two weeks.

Hon. T. E. Kilby of Anniston was here one day recently in the interest of his candidacy for U. S. Senator, and addressed a crowd in the city hall.

Rev. J. D. Boozer, pastor of the First Baptist church left this week for points in South Alabama where he is to hold revival services and take some time on his annual vacation. Mrs. Boozer and children accompanied him on the trip.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson (nee Eya Howell) pleasantly remembered here by a large circle of friends is spending sometime with her brother, A. P. Howell and other relatives in the county. Mrs. Johnson resides in Louisville, Ky. where her husband, the Rev. J. W. Johnson is pastor of a large church in that Kentucky city.

Mrs. J. T. Larkin of Miami, Fla., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Kimbrough, stopping over enroute home after a vacation spent in Boston, Mass.

Large quantities of apples, peaches, blackberries, plums, huckleberries and grapes are being offered for sale on this market, stressing the fact that here we have a vast array of fine fruits practically the year round.

Several thousand cans of string beans have been canned here this season by Mrs. Mary Hogan, who conducts a public cannery. The Hogan bean has become a household word wherever it has been used on the table. For several years Mrs. Hogan has canned for the public, furnishing the cans and doing the work in a most expert way.

TEACHERS BLAME MOTHER FOR DAUGHTERS' CUSSING

By International News Service

LONDON—Like mother, like daughter—even in cussing.

That the bad language of the modern mother is responsible for a great deal of the loose speech among the modern flappers, was one of the theories advanced at the annual conference of the Association of Headmistresses here.

"The old-fashioned conception of a mother who sits in the fireplace corner reading her Bible and doing her knitting is no more," declared Miss E. M. Morrison, one of the delegates. "The modern mother is a person who cries aloud for betting tips, cocktails and dance favors. We always make allowances for father's strong languages, but now mother is nearly as bad, and it is having a serious effect on propriety of speech among young girls."

Nineteen boys were present and all showed great interest in the activities planned during the summer vacation. A bowling contest was enjoyed after the meeting. "LITTLE BROWN CHURCH" SWAMPED WITH LETTERS

By International News Service
NASHUA, Ia.—Made famous years ago through the song "The Little Brown Church in the Vale," the Little Brown Church elders here are swamped with applications of ministers seeking to become its rector.

The Rev. George Hanna, for a number of years pastor of the church, has resigned. More than 100 have applied for the pulpit.

Last year 27,000 visitors registered at the little church, and it is estimated that as many more visited it without registering. The visitors were from all parts of the United States, Canada and Europe.

SPORTS

Pirates Increase Lead By Beating the Giants While Reds Split with Dodgers

Pittsburgh moved a little farther away from the Reds yesterday. The Bucs took the first from the Giants while the Reds were splitting a pair with the Brooklyn Robins.

Kremer and Songer worked for the Pirates, the credit for the win going to the latter. Kremer checked a ninth inning rally against him. Emil Muesel was responsible for two Pirate runs when he allowed easy blows to go for extra bases. Jackson and Lindstrom hit for the circuit to score two of the Giants trio of runs.

The Reds got dusted off in the first game with the Robins, Pete Donohue bowing to McGraw, 6-3. Old Carl Mays came back in the second to hand the Robins a coat of white wash 2-0, letting the Robins crew down with five bingles.

The Braves beat the Cubs in a close duel 1-0. It was Boston's fourth win in a row, that's something to talk about. R. Smith and Root tied up in the hurling duel, Smith stopping Chicago with four blows. Root was hit for seven safeties.

inning rilly with a single. The Senators won 7-2.

Boston sat down hard upon Detroit 7-0. Harris working for Boston, stopped the terrific battering forces of the Tygers with five blows, Heilman getting two of those hits.

Down in the Southern league the Barons showed a characteristic ability at rallying in the late stages of the game. The Barons came through against the Lookouts with a 9-8 count by scoring a trio in the last frame. From that time on it was battle to see who could get around the bases the greatest number of times. The Barons outraced the Lookouts.

New Orleans grabbed another, rallying late to beat the Chicks. Luke Roy, league ace since Crowder went to the Senators, got credit for the win, hurling the last three innings. Mobile defeated Little Rock in the other game of the Southern league, taking a 6-5 verdict.

No Game Arranged For This Week

No game has been scheduled this week for the Albany-Decatur combination, it was stated today by managers of the team. Negotiations among the Madison, Huntsville and Falkville teams failed to materialize and it is probable that the team will go through another week before donning diamond togs. Several teams in this section are anxious to enter the local field to take a shot at the home folks.

Moulton News

MOULTON, Ala., July 28.—Miss Essie Cain, of Dothan a graduate nurse, has entered upon her duties as a member of the Lawrence county health unit. She succeeds Miss Clyde Mills, who recently married. While Miss Cain has not had experience in the county type of work, her training has especially fitted her for it, public sentiment in the county has begun to grow in favor of the work being done by the unit. During this week, Mr. Marlette, the sanitary officer is at work at Town Creek installing sanitary toilets, and giving assistance in problems of local sanitation. Dr. R. E. Harper, the health officer, is kept busy each day and is working out plans for reaching all the schools early in the fall.

J. Kumpe, with one or two assistants, made another capture of illicit manufacture Tuesday. He took charge of a small plant about at the foot of the mountains about three miles southwest of Moulton. The fires under the plant were burning for the small copper outfit. Nine barrels of mash and a gallon of whisky were taken in charge.

Heavy rains, accompanied by electrical display, fell over a good portion of Lawrence county Tuesday afternoon and evening. In most parts of the county the rain was needed both by corn and cotton though the latter was not suffering.

MILLIONAIRE, NEVER HAD A VACATION

By International News Service
YONKERS, N. Y.—Most folks believe in three meals a day and a vacation every year but not John E. Andrus, millionaire subway commuter, who is 85 years old and never had a vacation in his life.

"If people would keep fit and not overload their stomachs they would not need any vacations," declared Andrus. "I take my vacation at my desk in the office. I do not believe vacations are necessary."

Following the delivery of this lecture, the aged financier approved a list of vacations for his 75 employees.
